Good Morning!

Hello Dr. Chong,

Your suggestion to continue subscription of ClinicalKey and subscribe to Access Surgery has been received.

Kindly be informed that the decision to terminate the subscription of ClinicalKey was taken based on the results of the ClinicalKey vs UpToDate questionnaire distributed via email at the end of 2015. Result has shown that requests for UpToDate subscription exceed those for ClinicalKey. Termination of ClinicalKey subscription became effective in January 2016 and access to UpToDate has been activated since mid of April 2016.

Regarding to the subscription of AccessSurgery from McGrawHill, we would like to inform that we already have subscription to that ebooks:

Please be noted that if you were out-campus, please log in via EzProxy to enable access to the full subscription. The subscription will be end December 2016.

Sorry for any inconvenience. Any inquiry please do not hesitate to contact us.

Thank you.

I am a surgical mmed student in husm. would like to ask regarding online access to clinical key, was able to access until recent months even though incampus. it was a nice database with many books available previously. kindly consider continuing the subscription.

also would like to suggest to subscribe to accesssurgery from mcgrawhill. it contains books and also media(video) of surgical procedures. would be a great advantage to surgical field students.
Thank you for getting Uptodate.

Thank you very much for your attention.
